

Swimming

One keen and successful Pooles Park swimmer was Doris Edith ‘Judy’ TOMLINSON (b.1927). She attended the school between 1932-8. She came back in May 2008, aged 81, with her daughter to visit the school. She explained that she had attended Pooles Park as a girl, lived in Playford Road and that her family had owned ADAMS the fruit and veg shop at 108 Fonthill Road. In Sept 2008 she sent a memoir to the school that included copies of her swimming certificates and medals.

“The only class teacher I can recall was Miss Green who used to take us swimming to Hornsea Road baths near Seven Sisters Road and I won several swimming medals and certificates. We also used to be taken to the athletics track in Finsbury Park for games lessons”.
